ABOUT SEVA DHARMA MISSION:

Seva Dharma Mission, a non-profit religious corporation, incorporated in Miami, Florida in 2006, is the affiliate of Ananda Marga Pracaraka Samgha, based in Kolkata, India, which focuses on the spiritual practices and educational objectives of the Ananda Marga mission.

Ananda Marga is a spiritual philosophy and worldwide mission practicing Ashtaunga Yoga and Meditation. It promotes a new humanistic (neo-humanistic) and universal outlook which leads to spiritual fulfillment and universal welfare. Our objective is to help individuals achieve their highest potential and to work towards a society in which the physical, mental and spiritual needs of everyone can be fulfilled.

The word "ananda" means "bliss", referring to the exalted inner experience of spiritual realization. "Marga" means "path", hence the name "Ananda Marga" means "The path of bliss."

Ananda Marga was propounded in India by Shrii Shrii Anandamurti, (his spiritual name), who is also known as Prabhat Ranjan Sarkar. In 1955, he formed the organization for the propagation of the philosophy and way of life, Ananda Marga Pracaraka Samgha (AMPS).

Although Ananda Marga was established in 1955, its spiritual origins trace back over 7,000 years to Sadashiva, in the northeastern area of India. Our spiritual practices are part of the rich heritage of Tantra Yoga.

Ananda Marga believes that spiritual attainment is the birthright of all human beings, hence instruction in the spiritual practices

(meditation) of Ananda Marga is always free of charge. The only prerequisite is the sincerity of the student.

Ananda Marga also provides disaster relief through its affiliated organizations AMURT, and AMURT/L and has numerous social service programs which include schools, orphanages, free medical services and mass feeding programs, etc.

We all want to experience happiness, but, as many of us have discovered, true happiness cannot come from material things. It is only through experiencing the infinite consciousness that is within us that we satisfy our longings. Ananda Marga spiritual practices, taught free of charge, provide a practical means to achieve this.

ABOUT THE FOUNDER OF ANANDA MARGA:

Innovative thinker P.R. Sarkar, founder of the Ananda Marga movement, brings the ancient scientific practice of yoga and meditation to the modern world. In addition, his revolutionary theories not only provide the means for individual revolution, but contained within the Ananda Marga philosophy is the blueprint for creating an exploitation-free society where everyone is guaranteed the minimum necessities of life. Ananda Marga philosophy also promotes neo-humanism, that is, extending the spirit of humanism to everything, animate or inanimate in this universe.
